Course Description

This course (Latin III) represents the third step in the undergraduate’s process of acquiring reading fluency in the Latin Language. Students who have enrolled in this course are expected to have successfully completed Latin I and Latin II, or equivalents thereof. The material to be dealt with this semester will presume a high degree of familiarity on the part of the learner with the basic grammatical, syntactical, and cultural concepts of Latinity discussed in chapters 1-27 of Wheelock’s Latin. The purpose of the course, which covers chapters 28-40 of the aforementioned textbook, is to shore up students’ knowledge of declensions, conjugations, clause types, sentence structure, moods (indicative, subjunctive, etc.), and voices (active and passive) mentioned in prior lessons, while simultaneously introducing them to more complex passages of text in anticipation of future reading courses at the University of Florida. It is hoped that by the end of the Fall students will be able to translate confidently between English and Latin, as well as identify the key components and features of an idiomatic Latin sentence. They will be asked to practice their reading comprehension skills on a daily basis by analyzing sections of prose and poetry in the original, participating in games and activities that test their understanding of grammar, and produce some material of their own ex tempore. In addition to Wheelock’s Latin, pupils will engage with various progymnasmata. The only other book that students are recommended (but not required) to purchase is 38 Latin Stories, a useful supplement to our main textbook.

Course Objectives

- Read original Latin texts
- Augment your knowledge of Roman culture and its reception
- Increase your oral communication skills through oral presentations and interactions
- Identify and contextually analyze advanced Latin syntactic structures

- Explain grammatical, syntactic, and morphological mechanisms of both English and the target language
- Translate complex sentences from Latin to English and vice versa
- Translate literature in the original Latin into English and complete reading comprehension questions
- Gain a stronger intuitive understanding of the target language by way of extensive reading
- Evaluate the value of learning Latin in light of our current historical moment

Prerequisites

- Latin II, Advanced Placement, or equivalent high school course of study
- This course is worth 3 credit hours

Required Textbooks

- Wheelock. Frederick M. and R. A. LaFleur, Wheelock's Latin, 2011. ISBN-10: 0061997226
- A notebook for daily use in class and homework assignments
- Materials and Supplies Fee: N/A

Policies

Attendance - Students are expected to attend class regularly. More than one unexcused absence will cause your final grade to be penalized by one point for each subsequent unexcused absence. Arriving late or leaving early will count as 1/3 of an absence. Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in the course are consistent with university policies. For a list of excused absences and more information on this subject, please consult the following webpage:

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/#absencestext>.

Make-Up Policy - Appropriate documentation is required for test and examination make-ups, as well as for late assignments. You may only receive an extension on an assignment if the request for said extension is prompt, timely, respectful, and accompanied by all additional documentation. If a “Reading Test” needs to be re-taken, the student is encouraged to do so at the earliest possible office hours. In the case of “Grammar and Vocabulary Quizzes,” no make-ups will be allowed EXCEPT in the case of excused absences. Instead, the instructor will drop the two lowest quiz grades each student has received at the end of the semester (see below for complete gradebook breakdown).

Common Courtesy - Cell phones and other handheld electronic devices are NOT permitted during class time. Students who make calls or text messages during class will be asked to leave and marked absent for the day. Laptops used for taking notes will be permitted based SOLELY on continued appropriate use. Furthermore, the majority of course work and materials will be posted to Canvas, entailing that need for internet access in the classroom will be minimal.

Classroom Accommodation - Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center (<https://disability.ufl.edu/get-started/>) It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs as early as possible in the semester.

Course Evaluation - Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens and can complete evaluations through the e-mail they receive from GatorEvals in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

University Honesty Policy - UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states: “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: ‘On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.’” The Honor Code (<https://www.dso.ufl.edu/scer/process/student-conduct-honor-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

N.B. - Students in this class are NEVER authorized to utilize or consult artificial intelligence in the process of completing assignments.*

This course complies with all UF academic policies. For information on those policies and for resources for students, please see this link.
